PERFORMANCES:

1) The Greatest Showman (Shoei Girls' Junior and Senior High School)

P.T. Barnum grew up poor but achieved his childhood dream of learning about a theater with his beloved wife and two daughters. His theater is a home for diverse talents, where no one needs to hide oneself from the world. With the help of a professional stage producer, Barnum's theater becomes the center of attention. However, when Barnum becomes obsessed with pursuing fame...

The Greatest Show on the planet is about to start! We hope you have great laughs, great tears and great hope and it's up to us to find happiness in our lives.

2) Crossroads (Shirayuri Gakuen Junior and Senior High School)

The story takes place in the 1990s. An orphan called Zac is trying to make a living for his sick sister, Emma. Meanwhile, Lily, who was born into a rich family, is forced to follow in the footsteps of her famous family and sing opera songs just like them, instead of musical songs, which she prefers. One day, they both find out about a talent show with a prize of thousands of dollars. The two, who are total opposites, bump into each other and start preparing for the show.

3) Mean Girls (Toho Girls' Junior and Senior High School)

Cady Heron lived her first 15 years in the African jungle. During her life in Africa, she was homeschooled and never went to a normal school. Now she lived in Evanston, Illinois, where she is entering public high school for the first time. She doesn't know what "high school" truly means. She makes friends with Janis and Damian right after she enters the school, but she has difficulty getting used to her unfamiliar school life. One day Cady gains favor with "The Plastics", a group comprised of Regina George, Gretchen and Karen who are at the top of the school social pyramid. How will Cady handle this new situation?
